LENTEN RULES CHANGED

Soldiers and Sailors Are Exempted From Abstinence Except For Five Days of Year.

Pope Benedict has given official recognition to the efforts of the United States Food Administration to conserve products that the war may be more successfully carried forward and many changes in the Lenten regulations will be in vogue when the penitential season begins, on February 13.

It is realized by the Vatican that Catholics in this country have been forced to undergo unusual hardships in living up to the requests of the Food Administration. They are doing more than others in the conservation of flesh meats, for not only do they observe the abstinence on Tuesday, set aside by the Government, but they must forgo the use of meats on Friday, as ordered by the Church. This double duty would be greatly increased by the old Lenten regulations, which forbid the use of meat on Wednesday and Friday during the 40 days of the penitential season.

The Church heretofore has forbidden Catholics to use flesh meat and sea food at the same meal, but under the new dispensation of the Pope this rule is changed and this combination may be indulged in during Lent of this year, and all Lenten seasons during the continuation of the war.

At the same time the Pope, by the indult granting the use of fish and meat, orders that Saturday be hereafter substituted for Wednesday as the day for abstaining from flesh meats It is understood that many Catholics during Lent will observe these two days and will give up the Tuesday abstinence requested by the Government. The indult allowing working men and their families the use of flesh meats on Saturdays will be in effect. No one, however, will be allowed to use flesh meat on Fridays during the whole year.

The indult, just issued, does not permit the use of meat on Ash Wednesday. After noon on Holy Saturday, which heretofore has been a day of rigorous abstinence, the use of meat will be allowed.

Men serving in the army or navy are permitted to eat meat on all the days of the year, except Ash Wednesday. Christmas Eve, Good Friday, the Vigil of the Assumption and the forenoon of Holy Saturday.

TONIGHT'S LECTURE

The Cameron Club Extends a Cordial Invitation to Every Resident of the City to Attend.

There seems to be an impression on the part of some people that the lecture to be given tonight by Mr. Robert S. Barrett at the Young People's building is intended only for the members of the Cameron Club. Such is not the case. Mr. Barrett is deeply interested in the work of the school nurse, and feeling that notwithstanding his hurried departure for South America he would be glad to contribute his part for the safety of the health of the children, he is giving his services free.

Therefore the Cameron Club will gladly welcome the public at his lecture tonight, for not only will the lecture give pleasure to everyone who is fortunate enough to be present, but the money for the tickets, twenty-five cents each, is to be devoted to the school nurse fund.

Remember the lecture will be given at the Young People's building at 8 o'clock. Over one hundred illustrations will be shown, many of which were secured by Mr. Barrett personally.

CASH AND CARRY.

Grocers Adopt New System of Charges in Some Sections of the Country.

In some sections of the country the cost of food to the housekeeper has been reduced ten per cent by reviving an old-time custom our mothers had of going to market with a market basket and taking purchases home instead of having them delivered.

Wherever women have expressed their willingness to carry their purchases home themselves and so reduce their cost, the grocers almost without exception have co-operated with them to this end, says the Food Administration.

In the stores where the plan has worked successfully the grocer has marked his goods with three prices—"ash and carry" the lowest; "charge and carry" five per cent more, and "charge and deliver" another five per cent more, making a possible saving of 10 per cent.

Such a system is fair both to grocer and purchaser, for the former reduces his expenses of delivery and of keeping accounts, and the cash customer who takes her goods with her does not have to bear the unjust expense incurred by her neighbor who charges her purchases and has them delivered.

How would the above plan strike Alexandria?

FIND SNOWDEN GUILTY.

Sentence on Negro Convicted of Killing Mrs. Brandon Halted.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 1.—John Snowden, colored, who has been on trial for nearly two weeks at Towson, for the murder of Mrs. Lottie May Brandon at Annapolis on August 3, was found guilty of murder in the first degree at 9 o'clock last night, after the jury had been deliberating for exactly 30 minutes. Sentence was suspended temporarily at the request of Snowden's counsel.

There was no demonstration when the verdict was announced. Judge Frank I. Duncan previously warned the spectators, among whom were many colored persons, against any utterance of approval or disapproval. Policemen and detectives were scattered in the courtroom, and the crowd being aware of it, left the courthouse in orderly fashion.

Mary Perkins and Edith Creditt both colored, who submitted the testimony which won the State's case, were kept under guard last night. Snowden listened to the verdict with his right hand raised. Otherwise he was as solid as a statue. He was taken to the Towson jail immediately afterward.

Alexandria City and Suburbs

Mr. Horace W. Crump and Miss Mary F. Harlow were quietly married yesterday evening at Grace church rectory by the Rev. Edgar Carpenter.

The funeral of Jack Hedding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. Hedding, of St. Elmo, Alexandria county, who died yesterday, will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow at Demaine's mortuary chapel in this city. The interment will be in Bethel cemetery.

The annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Alexandria hospital will be held on Monday evening at 8 o'clock at Burke and Herbert's bank instead of at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce as the latter place will be closed on that day owing to it being a "heatless Monday."

Tomorrow is groundhog or woodchuck day, according to the calendar If the little animal, which has been slumbering peacefully during the eatless, meatless and heatless days of the past winter weeks, emerges from his hole and finds that he casts a shadow on the ground, it is supposed that he trots back again to slumber for another forty days. That will mean that six weeks more of winter weather is yet to come, according to the old tradition. Let it be devoutly hoped that such will not prove to be the case in this part of the country at least.

Reports were recently published stating that candy furnished to the United States soldiers had been found to contain ground glass. On Tuesday of this week L. H. Hollar, of 510 Prince street, this city, bought candy in Alexandria which contained small pieces of glass, one of which was brought to the Gazette office this morning by Mr. W. F. Stuart, father-in-law of Mr. Hollar. The glass was not detected until Mr. Hollar had begun eating the candy and bit onto a piece of the glass. To what extent candy containing glass has been distributed throughout the country is, of course, not known, but it would seem to be the part of wisdom to exercise much care in the purchase of candy on the part of the people generally.

Robert L. Payne, Jr., the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Payne of Rosemont, who has been at the Episcopal hospital in Washington for treatment for the past ten days, has so far recovered that it is expected that he can be brought home tomorrow.

The will of the late Mrs. Sarah Florence Slaymaker was probated in the Circuit Court today. The deceased after making certain bequests, directs that $300 be given the woman's auxiliary of the foreign mission society of St. Paul's Church. Mary Elizabeth Slaymaker qualified as executrix.

During the month of January just passed, Nevell S. Greenaway, clerk of the Corporation court in this city issued seventy-four marriage licenses of which fifty-eight were to white couples and sixteen to colored. Fifty three deeds were recorded during the month.

Robert F. Downham and E. Gorman Ridgeley, clothiers, hatters and haberdashers, have opened a new store at the southeast corner of King and Pitt streets, where they will be pleased to see their many friends who may be in need of anything in their line. Both gentlemen are well and favorably known in Alexandria and the Gazette takes pleasure in welcoming them to the business circles of the city. Watch for their announcement in this paper. And just here it may not be out of place to say a word or two concerning the patronage of Alexandria's stores. If you and your neighbor do your trading in Alexandria you are helping to build up Alexandria just that much, Mr. Reader. A great deal of hard work has recently been done to induce new industries to locate here, and with the patronage which will be given by the new residents who are already arriving, added to that of the citizens generally, it should and doubtless will mean better stores for all to trade at. Therefore let everyone remember that every dollar spent in Alexandria will help to make the city more prosperous, and in that way a better city to live in every way.

Tomorrow night will be known as young people's night at the Billy Sunday tabernacle in Washington at which time the Epworth League societies of Alexandria and Washington will attend in a body. Members of the Alexander chapter will assemble at the corner of King and Washington streets, from which point a special train will leave at six o'clock p. m.

A meeting of the committee on insurance and legislation of the Chamber of Commerce was held in their rooms today at 11 o'clock, also a meeting of the committee on membership at 4 o'clock this afternoon. This evening at 8 oclock a special meeting of the entire membership of the Chamber will be held to discuss several important matters which will be brought up of interest to the city.

Perhaps there is no more important work being done in the city for the children than that of the school nurse. For this reason, as well as for the entertainment which will be afforded, everyone should attend the illustrated lecture to be given this evening at the Young People's building by Mr. Robert S. Barrett on South America. The proceeds will be devoted for the work of the school nurse by the Cameron Club, under whose auspices the lecture is given. Over one hundred views will be shown.

Miss Venus Hohenstein entertained a number of her little friends at her home last night at 1315 King street, in honor of her twelfth birthday. Among the guests were Misses Ruth Posey, Kathleen A. Beach, Christina Plaskett, Florence Kelly, Sibley Berman, Gladys Hohenstein and Freda Pullman and Masters Reynolds Williams, Robert Merchant, Harry Barnett, Norman Lawler, Morris and Samuel Berman, John Emmet, Stanford Kelly, George Langley and Fred Pullman. Dancing, games and a bountiful supper were included in the program of the evening The little hostess was the recipient of many pretty birthday gifts.

Mrs. Housewife,

if you are looking for a place where you can save money on your groceries read the advertisement of the Alexandria Cash Grocery in this issue of the Gazette and go to their store tomorrow and see how much you can buy with a little money. 28-1t

AUTO TRUCK'S PLUNGE

Breaks Through a Fence and Falls Upon the Railway Tracks—Driver Escapes Serious Injury.

About four o'clock yesterday afternoon a large auto truck, after having passed over the overhead bridge near the city alms house, suddenly skidded as it was turned north, and striking the fence at the railway embankment demolished this safeguard and made a plunge to the tracks used by the passenger trains, a distance of about twelve feet. Remarkable as it may seem, the man in charge of the machine escaped with minor injuries, although the truck was badly damaged.

As passenger trains running at high speed are passing over the tracks at all hours, precautions were taken by people who came to the rescue to prevent a more serious accident by trains colliding with the truck, and they were ready to flag trains while the work of removing the truck from the tracks was in progress. In a short time a way for trains was made, and the auto was allowed to remain upon the embankment to which place it had been removed. It was in this position today

Although every effort was made to ascertain whether the auto truck belonged in Alexandria or Washington, it was impossible to ascertain whence it came or whither it was going, nor could the name of the driver be learned.

DULL IN POLICE COURT

City Phenomenally Quiet This Week While People Experience Two Storms and Arctic Conditions.

But four cases have appeared on the blotter of the Police Court so far this week. A man was fined $1 for violating the traffic law, another $5 for disorderly conduct in front of the station house and two young men forfeited $5 each this morning by failing to appear and answer the charge of disorderly conduct.

About twelve o'clock last night word was received at the station house that an officer was wanted at a King street lunch room. Sergeant Roberts repaired to the scene where he was met by Sergeant Wilkinson. The officers placed two young Alexandrians under arrest. They were charged by the proprietor with disorderly conduct. Upon reaching the station house they left $10 for their appearance this morning to answer the charge of causing a disturbance in a public place. They could not be found at nine o'clock and forfeited their deposit.

Early in the night a telephone message was received at the station house announcing that burglars were about to invade Fagelstone's store, near the Stone Bridge, western end of Duke street. Officers Bell and Rawlett repaired to the store, but the would-be burglars had escaped before the arrival of the officers.

NO INAUGURAL PARADE

Snow and Ice Compel Abandonment of Pageant at Inauguration of New Governor.

Martial music, military trappings and much of the pomp and ceremony were missing today when Westmoreland Davis assumed the reins and entered on the four-year term of directing the affairs of the Old Dominion as its chief executive. There was no parade owing to the bank of snow, ice and slush which fill the streets of Richmond.

The ceremonies were plain and simple and restricted to the hall of the house of delegates, where the officers received the oath and the new governor made his speech. This part of the program was witnessed by the legislators and state officials from the floor of the house, while visitors packed the galleries.

At night the doors of the grand old mansion which has served as the official home of many of the state's most famous men will be thrown open for the reception which follows the inauguration of the chief executive of Virginia. The old building will be lighted from bottom to top and the callers—official Virginia and Richmond—will be welcomed after the manner of the predecessors of Governor and Mrs. Westmoreland Davis.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Alexandria Hospital will be held Monday evening, February 4th, 1918, at 8 o'clock, at the Burke and Herbert Bank cor. King and Fairfax street for the election of officers and transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting.

MORE NURSES WANTED

Virginia Council of Defense Calls Attention to Fact That the Need for Recruits is Most Urgent.

Richmond, Feb. 1.—The State Council of Defense is requested by the American Red Cross to call attention as widely as possible in Virginia to the fact that the department of nursing of the Red Cross is in urgent need of recruits. It is stated that the present average of enrollment is 1,000 nurses a month. But this enrollment, heavy as it is, will not be sufficient to keep pace with the military needs of the Government.

It has been estimated by the Surgeon General's office that if the war continues, within a short time the Red Cross will need between thirty and forty thousand nurses for the needs of our Army alone. The allies are also depending upon us to supplement their own nursing service.

There are between 80,000 and 90,000 registered nurses in the United States at the present time. Approximately 16,500 of this number are enrolled Red Cross nurses, the majority of them are in active service ready for mobilization, or prepared for specified service. It is the Red Cross enrollment which forms the reserve of the United States Army Nurse Corps and the United States Navy Nurse Corps.

According to Miss Jane Delano, chairman of the national committee on Red Cross nursing, the fact that the recruiting of nurses is not keeping pace with military needs, does not indicate that the women of this country are "slackers." in the nursing service, but merely shows that the sudden and extraordinarily heavy demand for nurses has not been thoroughly realized by the women available for nursing service.

Already the Nursing Service of the Red Cross has equipped and sent abroad 1,700 nurses for service with the Army and Navy Nurses Corps, has provided about 2,500 nurses for home service with the Army and Navy Nurses Corps in camp and cantonment hospitals, and has over 2,000 nurses organized into units and practically ready for mobilization.

By careful adjustment, the Nursing Service so far has met the demand of the Government in furnishing units of nurses for military, naval, and public health service, without seriously disorganizing the ranks from which they have been taken. But as these demands grow daily, a serious problem arises in home nursing for civilian needs. It has been estimated by the Army Corps that over 30,000 nurses will be needed on the basis of present estimates for an army of 1,000,000 men.

In order to meet the increasing demands of the Army and Navy Corps, the Red Cross has modified somewhat its former requirements for enrollment. The age limit has been lowered to 21 years, and in special cases nurses over 40 may be accepted. Smaller schools for nurses have been placed on the accredited list, and applicants are judged on their merits.

OHIO RIVER RISES.

Cincinnati Railway Station Abandoned—Big Packet Wrecked.

Cincinnati, Feb. 1.—With gorges at Carrollton, Ky., and Madison, Ind., holding, the Ohio River at this point has been rising 1 foot an hour for the last 24 hours and is now over 9 feet above the danger line. The Central Union Railway station was abandoned in so far as the use of trains was concerned, when the flood reached 54 feet, with water and ice flooding the tracks.

The government weather bureau explains, however, that the flood will last only as long as the ice gorges below this city hold and that a break in the gorges will send the river stage here faster than it raised yesterday. Suffering is being experienced by the residents of the bottom districts, where the water has invaded homes. The rapid rise also caught several business establishments, and a considerable amount of perishable food has been ruined.

The Greenland of Pittsburgh, a big packet, fell victim to the ice in the river late yesterday. She upset and is being carried down the river by the ice.

ONE MILLION QUIT WORK

Labor Unrest in Germany Still Spreads, With Strikers in Ugly Mood.

Amsterdam, Feb. 1.—Field Marshal von Hindenburg has taken charge of the strike situation in Germany and already ruthless military methods of suppression have been inaugurated.

Despite the stern measures adopted, information seeping across the German frontier today indicated that the labor unrest was still spreading and that the strikers in some communities are in an ugly mood, ready to fight.

"We are hungry," they tell army officers.

A number of strike leaders have been arrested in the Baltic Sea naval ports.

The men have been ordered by the military authorities to return to work immediately at Hamburg, Bremen, and Kiel.

Chancellor von Hertling is condemned for trying to adopt a middle course in his war aims speech instead of making a decisive declaration on terms.

The imperial government has announced its determination not to treat with the strike leaders nor the socialists, who are demanding the convening of the Reichstag because of their attitude on important political questions that "concern only the statesmen of the empire."

Strikers are holding up work on Germany's great merchant fleet, which she is constructing for a "commercial war" after the armed conflict is over. Practically all the workers at the great Vulcan ship yards, in Hamburg, where the freighters and passenger liners are being constructed, were still out on Thursday. The ship yards of Blohm and Voss at Hamburg, are tied up also.

The scarcity of food in all parts of Germany is adding to the dangers of a situation already ominous.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Germany's industrial and political revolt continues to spread. Advices to the State Department and the Diplomatic Corps today emphasized this fact. And they also indicated that the military authorities remain in complete control of the situation. They have not used drastic measures in stamping out rioting, although there have been some clashes in the larger cities.

Many Socialist leaders are reported under arrest. Their fate is uncertain.

The crisis will be reached very soon, officials here say. They point to the fact that the disturbance has spread to Saxony and Bavaria as distinctly significant.

WILL COMBAT U-BOATS.

Ford Invention Described as Most Deadly Enemy of Submarine.

The navy has a new type of warship. It is designed to be the most deadly enemy of the submarine yet produced.

Henry Ford is the designer. Naval architects co-operated in developing the idea.

Contracts for several scores of the new ships have been given to the Ford company, Secretary of the Navy Daniels said yesterday. The fabricated vessels are to be built in the Ford factory at Detroit and assembled on the coast.

Work is under way on a number of the boats. The first batch of them will be delivered early this summer.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE.

Lenine is Shot at Again; Youth's Bullet Misses.

Petrograd, Feb.. 1.—Another attempt on the life of Nicholai Lenine, Bolshevik premier, was made today.

An unidentified youth got past the guards at the Smolny Institute and fired at Lenine. He missed.

The assailant was arrested. The guards will be court-martialed.

This is the second attempt within a week to kill Lenine.

VIRGINIA'S NEW GOVERNOR.

Westmoreland Davis was inaugurated Governor of Virginia today. There was no parade, as is the custom on the induction of a new executive, on account of the condition of the streets of the capital city. Mr Davis, after taking the oath of office, delivered his inaugural address in which he assured his hearers he would carry out the laws of the Commonwealth and be instant in season and out of season in movements for the betterment of the Old Dominion. His address was, in the main, on the lines of his platform as laid down while making his canvass previous to the election.

The new governor is well-known throughout the state. He is the type of the old Virginia gentleman, easy of approach and genial in his manners. We have no doubt that he will devote his time and labor to the interests of his constituents as he has promised.

During the recent campaign Mr. Davis visited Alexandria where he made many friends, even among those who preferred to vote for other candidates of the democratic party. But it was a family contest, and, like good democrats, when it became known that the Loudoun man had carried the state by a large majority, there was a general disposition to make his nomination unanimous.

Mr. Davis will be backed by the entire democratic party in his labors in the interests of the commonwealth over which he has been placed.

DAWNING OF A NEW ERA.

As somebody said recently, the German people have grown weary of feeding upon war maps and promises. Hindenburg's and Tirpitz's assurances, made a year ago, that England would be brought to her knees within three months have proven illusions, and, as many observing people forecasted this time last year, if the German war lords fail to make peace the German people will sooner or later. While such "prophets" were about a month premature in their prognostications, the fact is apparent that the rank and file of Teutons are now bent upon taking matters in their own hands.

We are not prophets nor sons of prophets, but we recall that the Kaiser after plunging the world into strife left Germany quietly for Norway. Query, will he have to make a more hurried trip to that country in the near future to escape the wrath of his people?

As the war became more unpopular in Germany the Kaiser attempted to place the responsibility upon his son, the Crown Prince. The latter sacrificed half a million men in vain attempts to capture Verdun and arrest his growing unpopularity.

The Teuton armies are and have been for some time blocked in the west, the submarine boats have not fulfilled the exuberant forecasts of Tirpitz, the Italians are pushing the Austrians back, while the people of the central empires are enduring all sorts of hardships, in the hope that the assurances from the Kaiser will be realized.

Conditions in both Germany and Austria are desperate and growing worse. William II knows that he cannot carry his unhappy country through another war winter.

The Kaiser's talk about "immense successes," and von Hertling's chatter about "advantageous military positions," impose on fewer and fewer people even in Germany. The Germans know that their armies have not been able to advance in the west since the first three months of the war, and they are becoming familiarized with the idea that a German victory is impossible and that peace is imperative if the nation is not to be destroyed.

Reports that are coming out of Germany, via Holland, Switzerland and other neutral routes, to the effect that the people of that country are awakening to the truth concerning the war and that they are going on strike by the hundreds of thousands, as a protest against the methods of the militaristic party, are received in this country with general rejoicing. Construed as manifestations of the desire of the German people to throw off the yoke of the Hohenzollern autocracy and move for a general peace, based upon terms which will guarantee the safety of the world in the future, this economic upheaval is welcomed as the dawn of the new era. As the Washington Post says, once the German people take matters into their own hands an adjustment of their international differences can readily be effected, it is believed.

Rumors that have reached the outside world during the past few weeks, coupled with other manifestations of German unrest, together with published extracts from speeches delivered in the reichstag by socialist members, and extracts from articles published by socialist newspapers, all combine to give a very strong impression that the leaven of liberty is working among the German people, and that they are beginning to show their resentiment against the rule of the militarists.

It is interesting to observe that Austria is begging for peace without annexations or indemnities, while its ally, Germany, is protesting that it was conquered the world and will let off the rest of the human race from further punishment only upon the terms of a conqueror. If this is a real discord, as the Pan-German newspapers treat it, then the alliance is likely to fall apart pretty soon, for Austria-Hungary is beginning to reach out after a separate peace.

WORLD'S BANKING POWER.

The United States is now the dominant banking power of the world, the comptroller of the currency says in his annual report.

The banking power of the world was in 1890, $15,558,000,000. The banking power of the United States alone is now two and a half times that of the world in 1890.

The comptroller says we are now, the dependence in a large measure, of those great financial nations, which once capitalized the commerce of two hemispheres.

In enumerating the resources of our financial system, the comptroller cited the national banks. They are "stronger, safer and more closely observant of the laws and efficiently managed, than ever before."

Their resources, $18,553,197,000 exceed by $2,009,698,000, the greatest resources ever before reported. They exceed the combined resources of all State and private banks and trust companies. National banks increased their resources by 61 per cent since the inauguration of the Federal Reserve System.

The Federal Reserve System, he said, has enabled the country to withstand the shocks of war and swift economic changes. With peace, the same strength may be used to build up and equip once more the nations torn in war.

The aggregate trade balance is in our favor to the extent of $8,000,000,000 during the past three years, the report shows.

AFTER TAX-DODGERS.

Millionnires Are Receiving the Attention of the Legislature.

Millionaire tax-dodgers, so-called, are now receiving the attention of the members of the house of delegates. Wealthy citizens of Richmond and other parts of Virginia, who maintain residence out of the state, and who have been at different times in recent years charged with evading or attempting to evade taxation, are actively antagonizing the bill introduced in the house by Wilbur C. Hall, of Loudoun. There has been lively lobbying against the measure in the last week. Representatives of several of the most widely known millionaires in the state are vigorously campaigning against it. They argue that it is impracticable.

Mr. Hall replied to that argument yesterday when the bill came up in the house of delegates for advancement by exhibiting a communication from the state tax board of Iowa, which bore testimony that the law proposed by Mr. Hall has been tested in that state successfully. It compels the man of large wealth to pay his share of taxes and prevents him from evading assessment and taxation by shifting residence from one state to another, as so many are said to have been in the habit of doing.

SILVER TOKENS GIVEN.

Legislators Honor Stuart and Ellyson With Gifts of Appreciation.

Governor Stuart was summoned to the hall of the house of delegates at 1:30 o'clock yesterday immediately following the election, by joint assembly, of William Leigh, of Danville, and Thomas B. Robertson, of Hopewell, as judges of the respective corporation courts. The occasion was a surprise to the governor, who had no intimation of the gift to him by the general assembly of a token at the close of his administration. Delegate R. Lindsey Gordon, of Louisa was recognized, and in a speech which was a commendatory review of the four years expiring at midnight, presented to the retiring executive a handsome solid siver water pitcher and six goblets. Governor Stuart, in a speech which displayed his feelings, expressed keenest appreciations of the gift, saying that in the four years he had served the state his relations with the general assembly had been of the most cordial nature; that he would retire to his home with the proud satisfaction that he had enjoyed the confidence of the lawmaking body.

Senator Cannon, on behalf of the members of that body, was recognized and presented to Lieutenant Governor Ellyson a chest of flat silver—one dozen tea and tablespoons, knives and folks. The senator referred to the long and faithful career of Mr. Ellyson, covering more than thirty-five years, and assuring Mr. Ellyson that he had the love, respect and esteem of every man who had served in the senate during his distinguished career. He presented the token on behalf of the senators with the hope that he would accept as an expression of high regard. Mr. Ellyson was given a round of applause as he arose to accept the present. He was still weak from his recent illness, and spoke with difficulty. He said that it would be impossible for him to give expression to the feeling of deep appreciation of the generosity of the senators. He had served to the best of his ability, and that the members of the body had always been considerate and kindly, and their friendship would live long in his memory. He accepted the gift, saying he would show his appreciation by presenting the gift to Mrs. Ellyson. Applause punctuated all the speeches, and when the session was dissolved the legislators swarmed forward and took official leave of the retiring executives.

Railroad Snow Plow Upsets and Buries Gang, Killing From Two to Four Workers.

Derry, Pa., Feb. 1.—Two men were killing instantly, two others are missing, and five are in hospitals, the result of the overturning of a snow-flanger on the Bradenville branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad, a mile west of here Wednesday.

The snowplow, cutting a path through mountainous drifts in a cut about a quarter-mile from the main line junction, was thrown from the rails just as it unexpectedly came upon a gang of track laborers cutting through from the other side of the drift and it overturned and buried several of the men.

Five of them were extricated within a short time, seriously hurt, and were rushed to a hospital in Latrobe. Two others were taken out dead an hour after the accident, and it is thought the other two are still beneath the wreckage, probably dead.

Angered because they believed the accident was the result of negligence on the part of their foreman, John Walton, a foreigner, the members of the gang, most of whom were Turks and Austrians, attacked him, and when he escaped, chased him nearly a mile across a snow covered field, clamoring for his life.

A number of miners, about to go down into a coal mine, realizing the predicament of the foreigner, held off the maddened gang, while other miners took the gang foreman, placed him in the shaft cage and dropped him into the mine. The gang clamored about the mine shaft half an hour, demanding the life of their foreman, because of the deaths of their fellow-workmen, but were finally prevailed upon to desist.

The foreman was later taken from the mine secretly and hurried from the district.

MILLIONS NOT LISTED.

Tremendous Sum Is Omitted Property Reported by Examiner.

Members of the legislature are taking considerable interest in the report made to the state tax board by Examiner William H. Sands, of Richmond, on the subject of omitted property for taxation standing in the name of corporations chartered in this state. Major Sands says he has discovered that $60,000,000 of such property in Virginia is not and has not been taxed. These concerns are chartered under the laws of the state and many of them have their place of business elsewhere.

It has been ascertained that they pay no taxes there, claiming that they are chartered in Virginia and should be taxed here. They have failed to make report of operations for taxation in Virginia, and they have failed in many instances to do so for a long time, Major Sands says. He finds that time will be required to work up the cases and to locate them at the places where the principal offices are established. Pratically every country and city in the state will participate in this matter of forcing these corporations to book.

Much of the taxes would be assessed in Richmond, perhaps 25 per cent of the total, but there are large concerns which have their principal office in Virginia, and they have no made returns to the commissioner of the revenue, often saying that they transact their business elsewhere and pay taxes where the business is conducted.

SWEDEN MAY AID FINLAND.

Country Torn With Internal Strife is Fighting Socialist Revolt.

Stockholm, Feb. 1.—Finland is being torn by civil strife and at the moment it is impossible to tell whether the red guard or the government troops are in the stronger position.

Though the Swedish government has done nothing beyond taking measures to protect its citizens in Finland, it is being urged to intervene now.

Gen. Mannheim, at the head of the government troops, has already disarmed the Russians who had gathered in several places, but it is understood that the red guard has seized a considerable amount of munitions from Jacobstadt to Vasa.

The Socialists took Helsingfors Sunday, but meanwhile the government troops seized several railways, blew up the bridges and blocked any movement of troops from Russia. Most of the wires from Finland are cut and what little news is coming out is received through messengers who have slipped across the border.

Earlier reports that the red guard had abolished the Finnish senate and proclaimed a Bolsheviki government are now denied, though there seems to be no doubt that Helsingfors is occupied by Socialist soldiers. In the north of Finland the government troops seem to be in control of the situation while the reds dominate the south.

NAMED FOR UNEXPIRED TERM.

Secretary of Fish and Game Commission Selected by Stuart for Vacancy.

James M. Lewis, of Essex, has been named by Governor Stuart—who retired from office yesterday—to fill the unexpired term of the late John S. Parsons as game and fish commissioner. The term of office of the late commissioner expires within a month. Mr. Lewis is now secretary of the commission, a position to which S. Wilkins Matthews, of Accomac, has been appointed. It is also announced that Fred Pleasants, of Richmond, has been named to succeed Charles A. Johnson as a member of the board of fisheries, the latter resigning to assume the position of state treasurer, beginning today. It was said that Mr. Lewis would be appointed by Governor Davis for the full term. That such an announcement was authorized was positively denied at the Davis headquarters. The best information is that Mr. Davis will appoint Walter E. Hathaway, as announced several days ago.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO CONSUMERS OF COAL

At the direction of the Fuel Administrator for Virginia, an order has been issued to the retail dealers of coal in this city and county, not to deliver coal to household consumers, in quantities in excess of two tons and then only when the consumer's supply on hand is two tons or less. This will make the maximum quantity of four tons at any one time. To larger consumers, deliveries are not to be made in quantities greater than the actual needs of the consumers for fifteen days, and then only when the consumer's supply on hand is less than their requirements for fifteen days. This will make the maximum quantity sold to larger consumers at any one time, only sufficient for their actual needs for thirty days or less. Industries buying coal in carload lots must obtain special permit from the Fuel Administrator.

To make this order effective, and to relieve the dealer of the responsibility and difficulty of ascertaining the supply any consumer has on hand, it is arranged that an affidavit be furnished by the purchasers of coal in excess of one-half ton. (this affidavit can be made by any member of the family over sixteen years of age.) These forms for making the affidavits will be in the hands of the dealers, and notaries and the affidavits will be taken without charge, by any one of the following notaries public, who have offered their services to aid the Commission in this work:

COAL DELIVERIES

To Our Customers:

We are being seriously handicapped in the operation of our coal business on account of not being able to get enough teams to supply the demand during this severe weather, having hired all teams available, and we must ask our customers to bear with us during this emergency and request our suburban and out-of-town customers as far as possible, to provide for their own drayage. We regret this situation, which is entirely beyond our control.
